- Cheese
- Milk

Shopping list

- Bread,
- Cheese,
- Milk.

Shopping list

C

Commas in a list:

Paul, Jane, Freddie, Arun and Martha sit on my table.

a comma is placed after each name in the list

a comma is not needed when you get to the last name in the list

Practice: Write your own list using commas accurately.

Commas for clarity:

Commas are used for clarity to make sure the meaning of a sentence is clear. Example:

Without a comma, the suggestion is to eat grandma.

Let's eat grandma.
 Let's eat, grandma.
 COMMAS SAVE LIVES

SATs question:

Explain how the comma changes the meaning of the second sentence.

1. I asked if Jake Thomas and Lily were coming to the barbecue.
2. I asked if Jake, Thomas and Lily were coming to the barbecue.

With a comma, the suggestion is to eat WITH grandma.

Clauses:

Dependent Clauses - these need an independent clause to make sense

Independent (main) clause

The cat sat on the mat.

Subject = the cat Verb = sat

A sentence that makes sense alone and includes a subject and a verb. You need to be able to identify independent clauses to know where to put a full stop.

Subordinate clause

The cat sat on the mat whilst eating her food.

Subject = the cat/her Verb = sat/eating

Includes a subject and a verb but does not make sense on its own - it must be supporting an independent clause.

Relative clause

The cat, who sat on the mat, had a grin on her face.

Includes a subject and a verb but adds extra detail or information to an independent clause and is a type of dependent clause but is identified by the words who, whom, whose, which, that, where, when at the beginning.

Conjunctions for co-ordination:

These are used to join independent clauses.

Independent clause

I like snow but I don't like being cold.

Independent clause

Conjunctions for subordination:

A	WH	I	T	E	B	U	S
although after as	when whenever whatever whether whereas which	if in order that in case	though till that	even though even if	because before	until unless	since

These words form a subordinate clause - part of a sentence that does not make sense on its own and cannot exist without an independent clause to support it.

Subordinating conjunction → Although the weather ^{verb} was cold and snowy, I ^{verb phrase} enjoyed playing in the snow.
 Subordinate clause ← Independent clause ←

Practise: Write some of your own examples using colours to show the different clauses you've used.

Colon: A colon is a punctuation mark that can be used to introduce a list or to separate two independent but linked clauses (colons are used to stress that both clauses in the sentence are closely linked and the second clause emphasises, adds clarification, or adds further detail to the first clause).

SATs practice question:

Tick one box to show the correct place for a colon in the sentence below.

I decided it was time to leave I needed to avoid the evening traffic.

Dash:

- Two dashes can be used – like this – as brackets or commas to show optional extra information.
- A dash can be used to show that something is an afterthought – like this.
- A dash can show – er – hesitation and – um – interruption.
- A dash can introduce a list – of items, events, feelings or the uses of a dash.
- A dash can just indicate a pause – for effect.

SATs question:

Tick one box to show where a dash should go in the sentence below.

The cheetah is the fastest mammal on earth it can reach speeds of 68 to 75 miles per hour.

Determiners: the word that introduces a noun. These can be numbers or possessive pronouns eg. one bottle of milk was shared by two cats. OR his pencil/her coat

Other examples:

an, a and the are articles (types of determiners)

Using 'a' or 'an'...
an	a
before a word that starts with a vowel : an apple	before a word that does not start with a vowel: a banana

SATs question:

Sentence	Determiner
At the zoo we saw _____ owl.	a
There was also _____ cute baby penguin.	the
I thought it was _____ best day ever.	an

An expanded noun phrase gives much more detail than a simple noun phrase, for example:

simple noun phrase	→	A house
noun phrase expanded with an adjective	→	A country house
noun phrase expanded with two adjectives	→	A derelict, old country house
noun phrase expanded with adjectives and a prepositional phrase	→	A derelict, old country house with boarded and broken windows

H

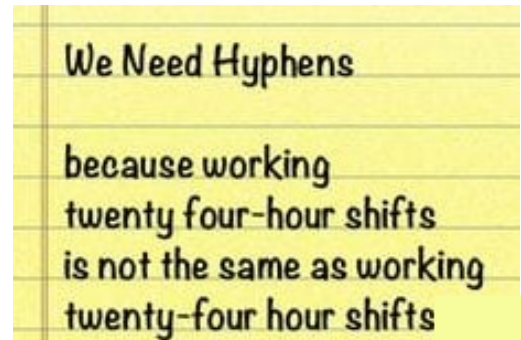

Hyphen: Joins two or more words, serving as a single adjective, BEFORE the noun.

well-known author chocolate-covered strawberries

AFTER the noun, these would not be hyphenated.

The author is well known.

The strawberries are chocolate covered.

Hyphens can also join words to make a compound noun.

mother-in-law

step-sister

eye-opening

They can also be used to join prefixes to a root word for clarity.

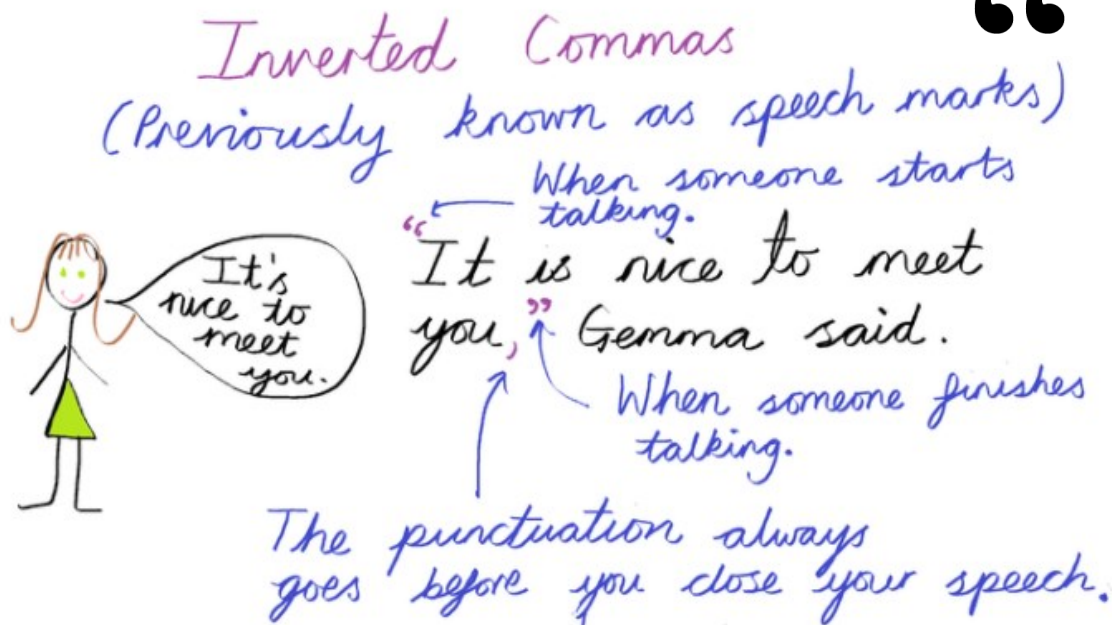

co-operate

co-ordinate

re-evaluate

I

Inverted commas:

Other things to remember when punctuating dialogue:

Passive and active sentences: this is all about subject and verb placement in a sentence.

A sentence is written in active voice when the subject of the sentence is performing the action.

A sentence is written in passive voice when the subject of the sentence has something done to it by someone or something. Passive voice is usually used in more formal writing and to remain impartial.

For example:

The cat was chasing the mouse.

The mouse was being chased by the cat.

Active voice: The cat was chasing the mouse.

In this sentence, 'the cat' is the subject, 'was chasing' is the verb and 'the mouse' is the object.

Passive voice: The mouse was being chased by the cat.

In this sentence 'the mouse' has become the subject which is having something done to it by the cat.

SATs questions:

Which sentence uses the passive?

Tick one.

The school proposed building a new playground.

The issue was discussed at a council meeting.

The council voted in favour of the proposal.

They started building the new playground last week.

Tick one box in each row to show whether the sentence is written in the active voice or the passive voice.

Sentence	Active	Passive
Otters live in clean rivers.	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>
Fish are eaten by otters.	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

Semi-colons:

A semicolon is used:

- To separate items in a list
- To show a pause that is longer than a comma, but shorter than a full stop
- To join two sentences which are closely linked

Examples:

I love to sing; my brother loves to dance.

A pessimist sees the difficulty in every opportunity; an optimist sees the opportunity in every difficulty.

The town was deserted; everyone was on holiday.

In these sentences, the semi-colon is in place of a conjunction to join two independent clauses.

The subject is who or what is the main focus of the sentence and performing the verb.

The object is the person or thing that the verb is acting upon.

Subject Verb Object

"A woman is reading a book."

Any sentence must have at least a Subject and a Verb!

An Object is optional.

SATs question:

Label each box with subject (S) or object (O).

The subjunctive form (or subjunctive mood) is the verb form used to explore a hypothetical situation.

For example: If I were you, I would go.
